Loughmore Harvest Festival
2nd September, 2012

Our Harvest Festival is now only 4 weeks away and preparations are well under way. Our sincerest thanks to everyone who helped to make last year's Harvest Festival such a success and we are now appealing to you for your help and support to ensure its continued success. We will only be having 3 more meetings – our next one Monday 13th August at 8.30pm.

We would be most obliged if you could please attend this meeting as we need to make sure that all aspects of the Festival are covered, thus making the organisation run smoothly. We will be having our bric a brac, tombola, jewellery, bags & belts and book stalls again this year and would appreciate items for them. We will have the Parish Centre open 2 days prior to the event to facilitate the collections – times to be advised nearer the time. One major success last year was our Home Produce Stall and all donations of breads, scones, buns, cakes, tarts, and items of confectionary will be so much appreciated. No doubt all the ladies of the Parish are already busy preparing!! Once again thank you and we look forward to seeing you on the 13th.
